Go 'Long Mr. Winter.

Oh! you go 'long Mister Winter, with your freshest 'win' an' 'mure. We are tired of your yist—don't you think you ought to go? Ain't you had enough of 'blizzards'—ain't you had enough of 'col's'—Ain't you got enough of 'freezin' a fellow fesh an' so?

We are tired now o' waitin' for the lakes an' streams to thaw, A-stillin' round an' round like some of Eekino.

Oh! you clear out, Mister Winter, with your stormy days an' sighs; We are dreamin' o' the 'glory' o' the spring an' summer skies! We are thinkin' o' 'the flowers an' the meadows all alight, All without the sere o' autumn's or the tooth o' winter's blight!

So you cry, 'Away off, fellow—take away your sleet and snow; We are tired o' your visit—don't you think you ought to go? Oh! you go 'way Mister Winter, with your days so black an' col'; Get way back into the mountains—in the dark climes o' the 'Pole. We are dreamin' o' the sunshine an' the birds an' the roses an' the 'files o' the May! We are dreamin' o' the 'villits an' the merry larks' eyes; Can't you slip away, ol' fellow, with your stormy days an' sighs?

We can almost hear the twitter an' the merry songs o' birds. Comin' from the scented hedger—sweeter far than human words! We can almost see the daisies that'll peep up from the ground, an' the daisies all a-bloom in the 'less an' 'less' round! We can almost scent the fragrance o' the jessamine in bloom, So you breezy fellow, with your stormy days an' gloom.

—M. R. SMITH

THE DANGER—It appears to us that the greatest danger that threatens the success of the tobacco pool, which is being conducted by the American Society of Equity is not so much the antagonism of the true growers, but rather the greed of the farmers themselves which will lead to overproduction. To judge from the preparations in this county being made by the farmers there will be a great increase in the acreage planted this year. With the promise of high prices every farmer will endeavor to grow an increased crop. Farm labor is getting scarcer every year and the consequence will be that there will be more tobacco planted than can be properly taken care of. An over supply of low grade tobacco will eventually break up the strongest pool ever formed. After all a market has to be found for this tobacco and if some of it is unfit for use no one will buy it. It seems to us that instead of urging the tobacco growers to plant as many acres as he will it would be much better to solicit each one to plant that crop to a reasonable number of acres—certainly not more than he can cultivate and house to good advantage. The result will be a higher grade of tobacco which will be a powerful aid to the pool in forcing higher prices.

HE PROPER MAN—There are many nice things being said about Hon. John W. Lewis since his name has been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial nomination for the Republicans. W. B. Venable writing in the Louisville Herald last week says: "I have just returned from a tour of the State as an evangelist, and I was greatly surprised to hear so many favorable things spoken of the Hon. John W. Lewis of Springfield, Washington county, in connection with the coming gubernatorial contest. There seems to be a very favorable sentiment generally for him as a safe and sound man to tie to just at this time. I never heard him spoken of as being allied to any of the opposing factions. They look upon him as a clean man with an unusual record and a broad-minded Christian gentleman. I believe him to be the proper man to carry the great Republican standard, and his high moral integrity will bring the warring factions together and lead the host to victory."

FEELING—It takes a long time to wipe out a factional feeling such as is engendered in a community by a bitter political campaign or a contest over the local option question such as took place in this county last summer or such as is on hand now in Lebanon. This was made plain in circuit court here last week. There were a number of cases tried on indictments against saloon keepers for alleged violations of the law in the course of their business. The trials were by jury and in nearly every case there was a hung jury except in a few where the evidence was weak and an acquittal was the result. These jurymen are all honest, conscientious citizens but they had all recently voted and taken sides on the local option question and they had "a leaning" either for one side or the other and as it was impossible to get twelve men without finding a few "stubborn" ones the hung jury was the result. We notice a similar result with a case tried in Lebanon the other day in which a saloon man was tried on the charge of selling liquor to a minor.

CHEEKY—We often hear of the cheeky fellow who is too stingy to subscribe for a county paper and who is continually borrowing that of his neighbor, but according to a complaint which comes from one of our rural subscribers, there is a fellow abroad who for pure unfettered gall has the afore said cheeky one beaten a mile. Our subscriber has a free rural delivery box on one of the county routes and lives about a quarter of a mile from the road and out of sight of the box. He takes the News-Leader and expects it regularly every Thursday. For a time all went well. He would find the paper in his box regularly. In some way, however, the lock on the box became broken and since then he has had trouble in getting his mail on time. He says that he has frequently of late found his paper in the box several days after its publication and bearing every evidence of having been handled and read by some one who had borrowed it and having absorbed its contents had quietly returned the paper to the box. Our friend says that he intends to set a dead-fall or a steel trap near his mailbox and hopes soon to capture the cheeky individual.

How to Remain Young

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga. did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin red as flame. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at Haydon & Robertson's Drug Store. Price 50c.

Trolley Line.

There is still talk of an electric trolley line being built from Lexington to Harrodsburg. The Leader says: "The preliminary survey of the proposed traction line from this city to Nicholasville, which has been in progress for the last two weeks under the supervision of George McLeod, Superintendent of construction, has been completed. 'Two routes were surveyed, one via the Nicholasville road and the other via the Harrodsburg road. The object in making the survey along the Harrodsburg road, it is understood, was for the purpose of determining which would be the most feasible in case the proposed line is extended to Harrodsburg—should this route be decided upon the road would leave the Harrodsburg pike about nine miles from this city and go by way of the Keen neighborhood to Nicholasville. From this turning point the road to Harrodsburg could be extended and have the advantage of the nine miles of the Nicholasville line in that direction. This route is thought by many to be the most feasible.

"The surveys made are to be used in furnishing the company's engineering expert with a basis for an estimate of the cost of the proposed line, and as soon as this is made the company will be able to decide upon which route will be selected. The franchise granted stipulates that work shall begin on the contemplated line within eighteen months and it is probable that the early summer will mark the beginning of actual work on the construction of the road."—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Laster.

and remember the next time you suffer from pain—caused by damp weather—when your head nearly bursts neuralgia—try Ballard's Snow Laster. It will cure you. A prominent business man of Hempstead, Texas, writes: "I have used your laster. Previous to using it was a great sufferer from Rheumatism and Neuralgia. I am pleased to say that now I am free from these complaints. I am sure I owe this to your laster." For sale by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Arrested in Illinois.

John Bowman, one of the young men against whom an indictment was returned at the recent session of the grand jury for defaming a woman against her will, was arrested in Springfield, Illinois, Monday. Chief of Police Thompson left Tuesday with a requisition and will bring him to this city, reaching here either to-day or tomorrow. The man and a brother, James Bowman, were indicted February 11, upon the complaint of two young women, domestics of this city, who alleged that while returning from New Market on the evening of February 9, they attempted undue liberties with them. The young men disappeared immediately, but Monday evening Jim Bowman was arrested out of Springfield and returned here. He was arraigned before Judge Thurman and his case continued to the next term of court, the court permitted him to give bond in the sum of $300. John Bowman was traced by local officers to several towns in Ohio and later into Illinois where he was arrested.—Lebanon Enterprise.

"In 1867 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said Dyspepsia, so I consumed, One said I would not live until Spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda crackers and doctors' prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate, then I picked up one of your Almanacs and it happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy, in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist and in three months I was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper."—C. N. Cornell, Rodine, Ga. 1906. The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done by the use of Kodol for Dyspepsia. It is sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

It is recommended by all who use it.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Two Small Children of Mr. Ed Boblitt Burned to Death in Their Home.

News was brought to town Monday of a horrible accident which resulted in the burning to death of two small children of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Boblitt in their home near Mooreville at about 6 o'clock on Monday morning.

The Boblitts lived in a small cottage, consisting only of two rooms, a family room and a kitchen, about half way between Mooreville and Booker. The family was composed of the father, mother and a daughter about 5 years of age and a son 3 years of age and an infant girl six months old. On the morning of the disaster the father and mother had gotten up and had eaten breakfast. The little ones were left undisturbed in their beds, while the father went to the barn to prepare for his day's work and the mother busied herself with the kitchen work totally oblivious of the fact that death in a horrible form was about to take away two of her loved ones whom she thought to be peacefully sleeping within a few steps of her. The mother became suddenly aware that something unusual was happening in the next room and rushed to ascertain the cause. Upon opening the door a volume of flame and smoke burst out in the midst of which was the little girl with her clothes on fire and dazed from the effect of the fright and the smoke. The frantic mother seized the little fellow and quickly smothered the flames, but not before she herself had been badly burned. Mr. Boblitt came running to the house just in time to prevent his wife, who was by this time almost crazed with grief and alarm, from rushing into the room, which was by that time a fiery furnace, in a mad effort to rescue her little ones. It was soon evident that the two remaining children were past all earthly aid and in fact so rapidly did the frame structure burn that scarcely twenty minutes had elapsed from the time the fire was discovered until all that remained of the home was a mass of ashes among which were rescued two charred little bodies that had remained of two happy faced children of a few hours before.

Mr. Boblitt is a hard working poor farmer and is a cousin of Messrs. E. G. and R. C. Boblitt, of Springfield. Mrs. Boblitt is a daughter of Mr. John Cutsinger of the county. The greatest sympathy is expressed for the bereaved parents in their sad affliction.

To remove a cough which causes the cold which causes the cough there is nothing so good for this as Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. The liquid cold relief that is most quickly effective that stills and quiets the cough and drives out the cold, sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Mothers, R. E. Young, T. H. and N. G. Mullins sold their 10 1/2 crop of tobacco to H. M. Moss of Springfield. The crop weighed 18,135 pounds and was grown on 12 acres, making an average of more than 1,511 pounds per acre. The price received was 10 cents per pound, straight, or $181.10 on each acre. Mr. Young says they lost about 250 pounds per acre on account of the wet weather, which if they could have saved, would have brought the yield per acre up to 1,800 lbs. or $180 per acre. Mr. Young's share of the crop was $306.75.—Lebanon Enterprise.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

The only excuse for buying anything but a Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Baking Powder is to save a few cents in price. ROYAL costs you a few cents more per can than Alum or Phosphate of Lime powders, but it is worth far more than the difference to keep your biscuits, cakes and pastry free from the injurious effects of these cheapening substitutes.

Continued use of Alum means permanent injury to health.

ONLY FIVE SURVIVE.

Death Removes Another Veteran of the Famous Tenth Kentucky.

In the death of Mr. John McMullen who departed this life at his home near Mackville last week the county loses a good citizen and another veteran of the civil war, who leaves an honorable record for valor in that great struggle.

At the outbreak of the war there was recruited from the little town of Mackville this county a company containing 36 loyal young men all neighbors and friends. The company was known as Co. F. Tenth Kentucky Infantry of the Union army and was in command of Gen. John M. Harlan and later was led by Col. W. H. Hays of this place. The little company of Mackville men fought valiantly and endured the hardships all through the great struggle between the states and those who survived found their way back to their Washington county homes. Time has wrought greater havoc in the ranks here ever than did the bullets of the confederate army and out of that little company of 36 men there are now only five survivors. They are: John G. Howell, F. S. Bottoms, John T. Sweeney, C. W. Bottoms, all of Mackville and Joseph Grant who lives at Elgin Bridge.

Mr. McMullen was one of the oldest members of being in the 90th year of his age at the time of his death. Mr. John T. Howell is a good soldier. There were none better nor more faithful to duty than he. Four of his old comrades in arms acted as pallbearers at his funeral which took place from the Mackville Baptist church of which he was a faithful member.

Worked Like a Charm
Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that spicy journal, the Enterprise, Louisville, Va., says: "I ran a nail in my foot last week and at once applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. No inflammation followed the salve. It really soothed the wound." Heals every sore, burn and skin disease. Guaranteed at Haydon & Robertson's Drug Store. 25c.

The Happy Farmer.

Crows Kill Lambs
Mr. A. J. McCrystal, of the Rose Hill neighborhood, dropped in Saturday to pay his subscription to the Herald. He said that before he left home that morning crows attacked and killed two of his lambs. They were very bold about it, and when he turned his shot gun loose at them they came back to the attack before he could reload again, and seemed smart enough to know when his ammunition was expended, and looked as if they would just as soon taste of his flesh as not. He would like for some one to give him a remedy to protect his sheep from the pests, as he cannot afford to give all his time as a shepherd to his flock. He says that because of the cold spell and snow the birds have been driven to desperation by hunger.—Harrodsburg Herald.

J. L. ALLEN, Prop.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Matherly who live in the northern part of this county have a penchant for selecting peculiar names for their children. They have six children and they are named as follows: Raman, Dalis, Ethel Valis, Eunice Loris, Mary Falis, Martha Alis and Ophelia Talis.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wells left for Bloomfield to-day to reside.
Mr. and Mrs. Wells have made many friends here during their stay for a year who regret to lose them as residents of cur-town. Mr. Wells has bought back his old business stand at Bloomfield.

Messrs. W. A. Clements, W.

to add a convivial touch of good fellowship to the occasion, Rev. Williams, of the Baptist church, and Rev. Lyon, of the Methodist church, both made appropriate impromptu addresses of welcome to which Rev. Lawson feelingly responded. As a prelude to the speeches "Bless be the Tie that Binds" was sung by the audience, and prayer offered and "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow" was sung and closed a most pleasant informal evening.

Hoped to Jellico.

Tuesday night Mr. Gilbert
Carpenter and Miss Borthia Tong went to Lebanon and took the Southbound train to Jellico where they expected to be married.

On account of objections on part of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tong, the young people had been courted clandestinely. Miss Tong went to the country ostensibly to spend the night with friends and Mr.
Carpenter, according to prearranged plan met her late in the evening and drove to Lebanon and boarded the 11 o'clock train south, where they expect to be married.

From Jellico they go to Indianapolis to visit an aunt of Mr. Carpenter and will make their home here on their return in three weeks.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Spanish Baked Beans.
One quart of white beans, pinto, a quart of strained tomatoes, 25 onion slices, a tablespoonful of sugar, a quarter of a teaspoonful of mustard, a teaspoonful of red pepper, two or three small slices of salt pork. Salt to taste.
Add a level teaspoonful of baking soda to water in which the beans are being parboiled. More or less red pepper may be used as desired, and instead of salt pork a tablespoonful of lard may be substituted. If salt pork is used, parboil and cut into small squares, mix salt in baking pan and bake in oven two hours or until beans are tender.

Removing Paint Stains.

Here is a recommended preparation for removing paint stains: Dissolve thirty four ounces of caustic soda and add one quart of boiling water. When the liquid is cold put in four ounces of ammonia, two of alcohol, two of ether and two of glycerol, and four quarts of water, mix thoroughly and bottle for use. This will keep a long time. When using dip the article to be cleaned, and dry with a cloth. If the stain is old, if it is not removed, use full strength.

Use of Turpentine.

Turpentine is a numerous household use. Applied with soap, it will remove ink stains from linen. A few drops added to the water in which clothes are boiled act as a whitener.
It will drive away moths that speckle linen in their hampers. Turpentine will remove wheel grease, pitch and tar stains. Mixed equally with linseed oil it will remove white marks on furniture which have been caused by water. If the brown is dipped into a bucket of tepid water to which a little turpentine has been added the carpets will look brighter.

Renovating Saddle.

The best quality of bridle and saddle leathers hang it out in the sunshine to air and pound it free from dust with a rubber stick. Once all the dust is removed, rub hot sand and furniture sand, a half and half mixture, into the fur. Then shake and brush out the fur will look bright and will be clean, for the sand cleans the grease and dust and the brushing it, leaving the skin bright and fresh looking.
